DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

STANTON'S FORTHCOMING DEFENCE.

It is hinted in Washington gossip telegraphed to this city, that Senator Howard, the Chairman of the Committee to whom Stanton's case was referred, has completed his report and will present it on the first day after the recess, if the Senate will go into executive session. It is described by the credulous correspondent of a Republican evening paper as a perfect crusher, annihilating all the charges of the President, revealing damaging Cabinet secrets, and destined to secure the vote of every Republican Senator in favor of reinstating Stanton in the War Department. General Grant (so the gossip runs) is voluntarily to retire from the place he has been keeping warm for the deposed war minister, and Stanton, after enjoying the humiliation of the President, will resign when he gets ready.

Who has stuffed a Washington gossip-monger with this precious jumble? According to his informant, the close-mouthed Grant has suddenly found so loquacious a tongue that he divulges what he is going to do in consequence of the future action of the Senate in secret session, on a report whose contents are still a secret to the Senate itself. Very likely Howard is ready to report, and Stanton, who of course wrote the document, may affect to think that he has demolished the President's charges. But if he really thought so, he would have no motive to forestall public opinion and get his defence pre-indorsed in the newspapers. He cannot dispute that he was the author of Mr. Johnson's Reconstruction policy, for he swore to the fact himself before a committee of Congress. If he pretends to deny that he furnished the points for the President's veto of the Tenure-of-Office bill, he can be confronted with the testimony of every other member of the Cabinet. His withholding the dispatch relating to the New Orleans riot was sworn to by himself, and he will hardly venture to accuse himself of perjury. But if these facts are true, he has acted a disgraceful part, and no pettifogging can clear him.

If the Senate should undertake to reinstate Stanton, the action of General Grant will be scanned with keen interest. The President will not, if he can help it, allow Stanton to take possession without a decision by the courts. If Stanton should go straight to the War Department, and Grant, under color of obedience to law, should surrender it to him, Stanton would be in possession, and it would require a dilatory process to oust him. But is it probable that Grant would thus suddenly fling himself into the arms of the Republicans? Would he make a wrangle of this sort the occasion of a political change of base? As a man of honor, he could not take such a step against the known wishes of the President without giving him previous notice of his intention. As a military officer, he could not thus confront and defy his superior. At any rate, the President would be entitled to know, and would take steps to ascertain, what course General Grant thought it his duty to pursue in such a conjuncture. It is a piece of information that could not be refused.—But the President, knowing beforehand the views of the Secretary ad interim, could easily prevent a transfer of the office back to Stanton. There may be a doubt of his authority to remove Stanton, but none of his authority to remove, at any moment he pleases, a Secretary ad interim, who has never been confirmed by the Senate. If Grant will not stand fire, the President has only to put somebody in his place who will. The prudent course for Grant, if he wishes to preserve his attitude of quasi neutrality between the two political parties, is to hold on, and refuse to surrender the War Department to Stanton, until the question has been adjudicated by the Supreme Court.—N. Y. World.

SOME SPECIMENS OF NEGRO GOVERNMENT.

To persons fond of theorizing upon the possible elevation of the negro to an equality with the white man in that most difficult of all arts, the art of wise and humane government, we commend some scraps of news which recently came to us from different parts of the world, where the black man has full power and unlimited scope for the exercise of his gifts in that line.

From the west coast of Africa (old Calabar river) we have details of the butchery of twenty-four persons—men, women, and children—in October, by order of King Archibong. The poor creatures had been basely betrayed into Archibong's hands by other negro chiefs to whom they had fled for safety, and who had promised to protect them. The heads of nine of these victims were cut off, packed in a cask, and sent to the King for him to examine and gloat over at his leisure. A party of missionaries and traders, living in the dominions of this monster, forcibly rescued four of the doomed ones—a man, woman, and two children—and placed them on board a ship in the river. King Archibong demanded their surrender, but the small but determined party of whites not only refused to give them up, but favored the cowardly tyrant with a piece of their mind; telling him that if he did not stop his barbarous practices, Europeans would find a way to make him do so. To this manly defiance the wretch yielded; and soon after the four rescued captives were at sea, on their way to a place of security. The same courageous band of white men had saved six other prisoners from a horrible death, in the month of September—a month when King Archibong reveled in a saturnalia of blood and cruelty. No better evidence could be adduced of the superior mettle of the white race over the black than that a mere handful of missionaries and traders should beard this incarnate demon in his own den, where he is surrounded by a host of warriors faithfully devoted to his service.

Recent intelligence from Hayti is quite of a piece with the foregoing. In Hayti the blacks have had every opportunity and every incentive for demonstrating their capacity for self government and civilization. And yet we find, under the thin varnish of a semi-christianized exterior, the same brutal passions which distinguish the governments of old Calabar river and Dahomey. Gen. Luxe Montes, a captive revolutionist, has been poisoned, and then knocked on the head with a crowbar, by his jailor. In this atrocious murder it is reported that President Salnave is an accomplice. Universal alarm and discontent reigned at the capital, and foreigners were flying to Jamaica for safety. In addition to this comes the rumor that six millions of counterfeit paper dollars are in circulation in Hayti, and that the Government connives at this fraud also. Salnave left November 20th, on a tour of inspection among his arsenals and powder magazines, and was evidently preparing new horrors for his political opponents.—Salnave is a full-blooded negro, and has been represented as trying to give to the world a specimen of negro government, at its best, with every thing in its favor. We shall now have a chance to see in the future of Hayti, as we have seen in its past, how little aptitude the negro race has for its own advancement; and we trust that the lesson will not be lost upon those who, at the safe distance of New York and New England, are looking with philosophical serenity upon the institution of similar experiments in the Southern States.

The last news from Abyssinia reports the English captives alive and well, and the British army advancing to their rescue through a parching desert, and suffering greatly for the want of water. No more melancholy proof of the cruelty, ignorance, and superstition of the native negro mind can be found in contemporary history than in the fact that this costly and troublesome expedition has been forced upon England by the obstinacy of King Theodore. He is keeping these few Englishmen in durance, because it tickles his vanity to lord it over white men; because it gratifies his instincts of tyranny to see them suffer from torturing apprehensions of death at any moment, and because he is so ignorant of England's power as to suppose that he can defy it with his barbarous hordes.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

The Tract of Land on which the late Wm. F. Collins resided, at the time of his death, situated in Warren County, on the Williamsboro' Road, two (2) miles from Ridgeway Depot, on the R. & G. R. R., and adjoining the lands of Jno. E. Jones, B. M. Collins and others, containing

On this Tract are situated the celebrated RIDGEWAY MILLS, which are not surpassed in the manufacture of Flour by any in the State. The Mills are in first-rate running order.

Valuable Lands and Mills for Sale.

PURSUANT TO A DECREE OF THE COURT of Equity for Johnston County, at Fall Term, 1867, I shall, on Saturday, the 18th day of January next, on the premises, proceed to sell, at public sale, that valuable property, near Boon Hill, in said County, known as

The improvements consist of an excellent Saw Mill, with a forty-two inch circular Saw, run by a Jonvale Turbine Wheel, which, for beauty of work and quickness of cutting, is unsurpassed. There is also a tram road from the Mill to the Railroad, where there is a turnout. Also a Grist Mill, which will grind 60 bushels of corn per day. Also a Store and Office, a Blacksmith Shop, and four houses for operatives, and State Conservative Convention!

It is resolved by the State Executive Committee of the Constitutional Union Party of North Carolina, that a State Convention of the party be held in the City of Raleigh, on THURSDAY, the 5th day of February, A. D. 1868, at 11 o'clock of that day.

It is confidently hoped that the friends of a Constitutional Union and civil liberty will be active in the effort to make the Convention the largest and most respectable that ever assembled in the State.

Let the Conservative people in every County of the State, where meetings have not been held, hold meetings at once, pass appropriate resolutions, appoint delegates and see that they attend the Convention.—The condition of public affairs demands the patriotic effort and co-operation of every good citizen, to save the country from impending danger.

By order of the State Executive Committee.

R. C. BADGER, Secretary.

January 4th, A. D. 1868.

THE BANKRUPT LAW.

This law was passed by Congress for the benefit of honest, unfortunate debtors, and for them alone. It was not passed, to enable all debtors to get rid of their debts, as some seem to suppose.

We have been careful to urge only upon real, honest bankrupts, to avail themselves of its benefits. There is room left for unfortunate debtors, who are not able to pay their debts, to make the best compromise they can with their creditors, and thus avoid the expense of law suits, and the ruinous policy of exposing their property to public sale, at the present time.

The tendency among many is, to defer the settlement of their debts, especially old debts, in the hope that something will turn up to their advantage. General repudiation is what many may be looking for by the agency of the Radical Convention soon to meet, and others, still, hope that, by delaying suits under the orders of the military, they may be able to save something for their families. There is an old saying, that "delays are dangerous," and this has been proven true a thousand times. While we hope for the best for our people, we confess that our impressions are, that no one will realize any good, either from repudiation or the delays of the law. If debtors find their creditors implacable and ready to contend for the last cent, if they are satisfied that their resources will not enable them to pay their debts, they had better, to avoid the vexations of suits and excessive costs, and the sacrifice of property by public sales, go into bankruptcy.

But we advise people, who are thus oppressed, not to listen to the advice of every man, nor seek the advice of interested parties, in going into bankruptcy. There are a number of persons peculiarly interested in forcing every man into bankruptcy, who are too selfish to consider the interests of others. It pays them well. Indeed, some of them will make fortunes out of the misfortunes of the people, and the public should apply for advice only to those who are honest and capable of giving proper counsel. Go to an intelligent Attorney, who knows his business, and who will give you an honest opinion.

There are differences of opinion in regard to the limit of the law, as to the time when applicants may apply for the benefits of bankruptcy. We are informed, upon the best authority, that, after the 2nd day of March next, no applicant for bankruptcy will be admitted, unless the value of his property equals at least 50 per cent. of his indebtedness, unless his creditors consent to his bankruptcy.

THE FIFTH OF FEBRUARY.

Now that the Executive Committee have designated the day for the assembling of the Conservative State Convention, we hope that meetings, for the appointment of delegates, will at once be held in every County, in which they have not already been had. Let our friends be active in this important matter, and let no effort be spared to render the Convention, at this time of peril, the most imposing representative body of the kind that has ever assembled in North Carolina. Let it be such a Convention as will present the most marked contrast to the other mongrel concern, which will, also at that time, be in session in the Capitol.

It is important that the true voice of North Carolina, in this hour of her humiliation and distress, should be heard, and that it should be attended with all the weight of character and influence that can give dignity and emphasis to its utterances.

THE SPOILS.—There is a horde of greedy aspirants already in the field for the offices within the disposal of the approaching mongrel Convention. For every thing, from Door-keeper up, the name of the hungry patriots is legion. The only "distinction of color" noticeable is, that the black cormorants exceed in number the pale-faced aspirants. Such log-rolling and button-holing as we shall see, in a few days, it will be curious to witness.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA CONVENTION.—This body will meet on the 14th of January. Official information shows the Convention to be composed of one hundred and twenty-four delegates, of whom fifty-five are white and sixty-nine colored. In three or four districts the delegates are all black, and are ignorant field hands.

GENERAL GRANT.

The very general favor which Gen. Grant receives from the Northern Radicals, as a candidate for the Presidency, not only fixes his status as a Radical Republican, but emboldens his friends in Congress to determine to check mate and cast off all of Judge Chase's prospects in the South.

The reader will perceive, by our telegraphic Congressional proceedings of yesterday, that, in the House, Mr. Upson, of Michigan, offered a resolution instructing the Reconstruction Committee to enquire into the expediency of authorizing the several "Constitutional" (!) Conventions of the Southern States, to remove the present State officers, and to appoint "loyal" civil officers in their stead, both for the States and Counties. If such an amendment to the reconstruction acts were passed, it is plain that the vote of the South in the Presidential canvass would have been cast for Chief Justice Chase.

Mr. Boutwell, of Mass., who has been generally regarded, heretofore, as a friend of Judge Chase, and an extreme Radical, moved to amend Mr. Upson's resolution, which Mr. U. accepted, to instruct the Committee to enquire into the expediency of constituting each Southern State a separate Military District under the command of the General of the army, dissolving the existing State governments, and empowering Gen. Grant to detail officers of the army for the civil-military service of said Districts. Mr. Boutwell's resolution passed. Should the reconstruction acts be thus amended, it is almost certain that either the Southern States will not vote in the Presidential election, or will cast their votes for Gen. Grant. We predict, if Judge Chase has friends enough in the Senate to defeat the object of Boutwell, the proposed amendment cannot pass.

This movement, together with other developments, will defeat the friends of Gen. Grant, in imposing him upon the public, not as a party, but as the people's, candidate. Every day adds to the evidence, already strong, that Gen. Grant has committed himself to the keeping of the Radical Republicans, and that he endorses the Congressional Reconstruction Acts. As evidence of Gen. Grant's thorough Radicalism, Senator Wilson, of Mass., in a speech to the blacks of Boston, on the 1st. inst., said that "Gen. Grant told him, a few days ago, that the Commanders in the South were more Radical than the Massachusetts delegation in Congress." Gen. Grant is right. They are more Radical than the Reconstruction Acts themselves, and, what is more, Gen. Grant approves of their course.

THE TRUE SPIRIT.

The National Intelligencer says that Conservatives, Democrats, Old Whigs, and all men, without regard to party distinction, who would preserve the Government of their forefathers, protect that Constitution which is the last hope of civil and religious liberty, and restore the Union to its former grandeur and glory, should unite in this patriotic work. Political names sink into insignificance in an extremity, when the life of the Republic is at stake, and is menaced by an unprincipled and prodigate party, which has used the sacred name of "liberty" to varnish the guilt of pretended patriots, whose conduct has been destructive to the public weal, and who, having nothing to hope for by fair and honest means, have sought their private advantage in disasters inflicted upon the country. We are no longer Democrats, nor Whigs, nor Conservatives, but a common and patriotic organization under the name of either, where every man is the equal and friend of the other, and in which each and all aim to accomplish the same noble end, in redeeming the Republic from misrule, corruption, and tyranny, and extending all over it the same laws, the same protection, the same principles, and the same destiny. United by such a bond, we cannot fail in the coming contest. Already the signals of success have been hoisted high on the Atlantic and the Pacific. They will cheer our people on to still greater achievements, and they will assure faltering hearts in the Old World that this Union is to be preserved in all its integrity, and still to continue the asylum of the oppressed of other lands.

ROWAN AND DAVIE.—It has been understood, from the published official vote of Rowan and Davie, in the late election, that Messrs. Allen Rose, and Dr. Milton Hobbs, Radicals, and J. S. McCubbins, Conservative, were elected. The official return, as published, gave Mr. McCubbins a clear majority of 17 votes over Mr. Isaac M. Shaver. It will be seen that Gen. Canby declares Mr. Isaac M. Shaver, who is said to be a Radical, but who at one time declined to be a candidate, elected over Mr. McCubbins. This is the only instance we have seen, in which Gen. Canby reverses the election as returned by the poll keepers.

ADVERTISING.—In a late number of the New York Tribune, Horace Greely (with whom we seldom agree in anything, though, in this instance, we heartily endorse his suggestions,) makes some sensible remarks about business depression and the duty of sellers. We quote the following extract:

"In the meantime how are business men to keep afloat? Prudence and economy, of course, are the two great lessons to be learned, but there is one part of these lessons which in dull times is especially apt to be forgotten. Be sure of one thing: whatever you have to sell, there are many people ready to buy, even in the most depressed seasons. Find them out; show them your wares; persuade them to buy of you rather than another. When buyers are reluctant, sellers must be active. It is neither cheap nor sensible to sit still behind your counter and wait for the bustle of trade to revive. When business is dull, that is the time to advertise. In the first place, that is when you most need to advertise; and in the second, that is when people devote most time to reading the newspapers, and when your advertisement consequently is most generally seen."

No bank was robbed in this city—as far as known to the public—yesterday, and no teller ran away.—Boston Post.

STATE NEWS.

—— A white man, calling himself William Braswell, and hailing from Edgecombe, was arrested in Wilson, a few days since, for proposing to some negroes in that place to join him in forming a club of thirty men of color, for the purpose of plunder. He stated to the negroes that they had not been paid for their labor, that during the Winter they would suffer, and that by joining him, they could secure several months' provisions, in a short time. To the credit of the negroes, be it mentioned, they themselves arrested the man and carried him before the Mayor.

—— James H. Everitt, Esq., died in Goldsboro', of consumption, on the 22nd. ult., in the 42nd. year of his age. Mr. E. was a prominent member of the Bar of his town, and twice represented the county in the Legislature.

——The Statesville Americn says that the snow storm of last week was the severest ever known in that section. It continued fifty hours without intermission, attended much of the time with a high wind from the Northwest, amounting, at times, to almost a hurricane. The snow, upon an average, was not less than ten inches deep, and the drifts several feet.

CONSERVATIVE MEETING IN McDOWELL COUNTY.

A large and impromptu meeting of the citizens of the County of McDowell was held in Marion, on the 24th December, 1867, to confer together on the state of the country.

On motion, S. B. Erwin, Esq., was called to the chair, and James M. Greenlee and Alberto Higgins appointed Secretaries.

The meeting was then addressed by Hon. B. S. Gaither, in an able and telling speech, which was listened to with great attention, and frequently cheered with loud applause.

At the close of Col. Gaither's speech, on motion, the Chairman appointed J. S. Brown, W. W. Flemming, R. C. Burgin, Dr. J. C. Newland and S. P. Burnett a Committee to draft resolutions expressive of the sentiments of the meeting.

The Committee, through W. W. Flemming, Esq., reported the following resolutions; which were adopted:

WHEREAS, From the unsettled condition of the country, arising from the late war, parties have been broken up, parties once based upon right and founded on justice, it behooves every true citizen throughout this County, State, and the American Union, to act in concert and concord for the promotion of the peace, the prosperity and the happiness of this once great people.

AND WHEREAS: There are certain secret organizations being, and have been, formed in our midst, for what purpose none know, save those who have sworn to support them, but the history of past ages having shown that such tend only to injury, oppression and ruin, to the suppression of law, reason and right, and to the destruction of its own supporters: Therefore

Resolved, That we are desirous to act in concert with all true citizens of this State and the United States, in any open and public manner, for the purpose of restoring our State and Government to their pristine power and splendor.

Resolved, That there shall be nothing hidden, but every act shall be subject to the approval or censure of every true citizen, and we pray that an Omniscient God will enable us to pursue the path of law, justice and integrity of purpose.

Resolved, That, in order to advance this cause and promote this end, we appoint twenty-five delegates to attend the Convention of true citizens to be held in the City of Raleigh, sometime during the winter, the object of which is to act in concert with all true citizens of the United States, in endeavoring to restore the Constitution of our fathers and the civil law.

The delegates appointed are Gen. A. Burgin, Thomas Lytle, Esq., Capt. J. W. Freeman, Webb Crawford, J. E. Morris, J. W. Bright, Thos. Hemphill Esq., W. C. Tate, S. P. Burnett, A. B. Hunter, W. F. Cannon, J. S. Brown, Jos. Conley, John G. Yancey, J. H. Greenlee, Dr. J. C. Newland, W. W. Flemming, Esq., R. C. Burgin, A. M. Erwin, Esq., J. W. Biddix, S. J. Neal, Capt. A. Burgin, J. W. Wilson, J. M. Neal, Dr. W. F. Higgins.

On motion, the Chairman and Secretaries were added to the list of Delegates.

J. S. Brown, Esq. offered the following additional resolution, which was enthusiastically adopted:

Resolved, That should none of the delegates attend, we hereby request Hon. W. A. Graham, Hon. Z. B. Vance and Seaton Gales, Esq., to represent McDowell County in said Convention.

On motion of W. W. Flemming, Esq, and adopted:

Resolved, That a copy of the proceedings of this meeting be sent to the Sentinel, at Raleigh, with a request to publish the same, and that the other papers in the State, friendly to the cause, be requested to copy.

On motion, the meeting adjourned.

ALBERTO HIGGINS }

THE RADICALS AND CONGRESS.—Mr. Weed, the prominent editor and politician of New York—one of the founders of the Republican party—has the following remarks in his last paper—the New York Commercial:

"The leading idea of Radicalism, amid the ruin, destitution, and starvation that is acknowledged, is that, through universal negro suffrage, ten unrepresented States "must be brought back in time to vote" for the Radical candidate for President. This, let it be remembered, is the key to the whole Radical programme of reconstruction.—All there is of distress and anarchy, ruin and starvation, results from a determination in Congress to elect a Radical President.

* * * * "The whole course of congressional financial legislation has been false, wasteful, and pernicious, and exercises a most depressing influence upon the industrial interests of the country. Great financial and economical reforms are needed, and it requires no prophet to foretel that any delay or shortcoming in this respect is certain to be attended by political revolution, and our representatives had better take warning in time."

They are having a hard winter of it in France, but the editor of the Petit says it is nothing to what they had in 1855, when near Lons le-Saulnier all the villages were deep under snow, and only the tops of the chimneys rose above the level. The peasants communicated with one another and went to see their sweethearts through long tunnels dug in the snow. But these were unavailable for the postmen, who were obliged to travel on the surface. They delivered their letters by dropping them down the chimney.

"Halloo!" one would cry from above; "Does Jean So-and-so live here?"

"Oui," would be the reply.

"Look out, then, for a letter!" And down it would come into the hat held to receive it.

THE NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD.

Messrs. Editors:—For many years I have devoted considerable time and thought to Railroads, their proper management, and the influence, when properly managed, they exert on the welfare and prosperity of a country.

More than twenty years ago, I advocated an extensive system of Railroads in North Carolina, when, by so doing, I placed myself in antagonism with many of my political brethren of the Democratic party.

You doubtless remember that the act chartering the North Carolina Railroad became a law by the casting vote of Calvin Graves, then Speaker of the Senate, and how dead, politically, it killed him. I shall never forget the sublimity of the scene.—The Senate chamber was crowded, several of the first men in the State had spoken, and the vote was taken by yeas and nays. The clerk announced that there was a tie: there was a pause, and perfect silence, and all eyes were turned to the Speaker; gently leaning forward, in a voice calm, firm and distinct he pronounced the words "the bill has passed its third and last reading."—Those few words were the realization of the long cherished scheme of Rev'd. Joseph Caldwell and Judge Gaston, who spent years in advocating a great central Railroad in North Carolina.

Why did those wise and patriotic men so ardently cherish and so earnestly urge the scheme of "a railroad from Beaufort to the mountains?" Was it because it was so very desirable that there should be a great thoroughfare for travel in N. C.? No, it was that there should be a cheap, sure and speedy means of communication with markets for the products of our agriculture, mines and forests.

The Railroads of N. C. are, in a peculiar manner, public property; and every citizen is interested in their proper management. With a single exception, the State is the largest stockholder in all of them. They were constructed with the people's money, and for the benefit of the people; and, and as our condition is, if our railroads were, to-morrow, to cease to run, we should find that we had reached a lower depth of misery and poverty than our imaginations had ever conceived.

I propose submitting a few reflections, suggested by the letter of Hon. Josiah Turner, President of the N. C. Railroad, which lately appeared in your paper. Though I have known that gentleman from his childhood, and been on friendly relations with him, still we have very rarely thought alike on any subject. I am glad that we at last agree, for I heartily endorse his letter.

I was present at the last annual meeting of the Stockholders of the N. C. Railroad, when Mr. Turner was elected President, and, though I was his friend and well-wisher, I doubted if he was the proper man for the place.

Mr. T. entered with energy upon the discharge of his duties. He was seen every where upon the line of his road. Having informed himself, by personal observation, of the peculiar wants of every section, he addressed himself to the business of preparing the Bonds of the Company, in accordance with a resolution of the Stockholders to fund the debt of the Company.

He next proceeded to carry into effect a resolution passed at the annual meeting, referred to above, making it his duty to endeavor to secure through freight upon the whole line of his road. For this he has been most bitterly and violently assailed and denounced. I do not remember to have seen a line in his defence, nor a word of apology for him. But Mr. T. is made of stuff too stern to be driven by obloquy from any course which his judgment approves. He not only carried out the instructions of his constituents, but he inaugurated the policy of taking care of our own people, and making their wants and convenience the chief object, as he has well explained in his letter. It required considerable nerve to give up the long established policy and cherished idea of railroad men, competition for the "through travel," and to trust the existence of his road to receipts from freight and way travel. But Mr. T. struck boldly out in the enterprise, and so far results justify the wisdom of his course, and I doubt not they will continue to do so.

It was at one time a very generally received opinion that no road depending principally upon freight for its support could be self sustaining. It was said that the heavily loaded cars would so rapidly destroy the rails and superstructure that no such road could be kept up. Experience has shown that it is the heavy engines and tenders which crush the road, and when these are driven to a high speed, as is the case on "express" and "lightning" trains, the wear and tear are far greater than on roads which carry as heavy freights as stone or coal, and which run at low speed.

We heartily approve the idea of Mr. T. that his road was constructed for the benefit and convenience of our own people. This being the case, freight and fare should be put down as low as possible. Cheap freights, and proper attention to the freight business, are the "open sesame" to a thousand sources of support to the road from the field, the mine, the plough, the loom, and the anvil. New channels of trade will open, which will widen and deepen yearly and afford an adequate and permanent support to all our railroads, and diffuse prosperity and wealth throughout the land. I am a firm believer in the cheap postage system, and, so believing, I bid Mr. Turner God speed!

H. BOSSA.

HOW MANY CABBAGES PER ACRE!—The great cabbage growers about New York city generally calculate upon ten thousand heads per acre, allowing four superficial feet to each plant, which gives a suplus of three thousand feet for missing plants. We suppose the crop may average five cents a head, giving $500 an acre, which, considering it is a second crop or third crop of the season, affords a pretty good return. Cabbages often follow peas, with which radishes or lettuce have been grown; and ground from which an early crop of potatoes has been taken is often-planted with late cabbages. The soil of this crop must be rich and manure used unsparingly. Hog manure is not approved in this vicinity: it is said that it produces "club-footed cabbages." The gardeners prefer guatton for this crop, though we have known cabbages grow upon the same spot a dozen years in succession. Near a city there is no doubt about the profitableness of the crop, and we believe it a valuable one for food for cattle and sheep. It increases the flow of milk, but it does not improve the quality. Irrigation is valuable where cabbages grow, as they require a vast quantity of water as well as manure, with deep tillage and thorough cultivation.—Tribune.

THE

ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE-COMPANY

OF HARTFORD.

ASSETS OVER $7,000,000.

PAID POLICIES IN NORTH CAROLINA: $33,000.

Judge E. A. BULKELEY, President. | T. O. ENDERS, Secretary.

W. H. CROW,

MANAGER AND GENERAL AGENT

FOR THE STATE OF

NORTH CAROLINA AND PART OF VIRGINIA.

IN COMPARING THIS COMPANY WITH FORTY-TWO COMPANIES, AND BY THE REPORT of the Insurance Commissioners of Massachusetts, the following facts appear, under OFFICIAL ENDORSEMENT:

1st. The Ætna issued more policies than either of forty other Companies. More than four times the average, AND NEARLY ONE-TENTH OF ALL.

2nd. That excluding Capital, the Ætna's ratio of Assets to Liabilities is larger than that of twenty-nine Companies, AND MORE THAN THE AVERAGE OF ALL.

3rd. That the Ætna's receipts are larger than those of either of thirty-eight other Companies, and more than three times the average, and more than ONE-THIRTEENTH of all.

4th. That the Ætna's ratio of expenses to receipts is less than that of twenty-nine other Companies, and LESS than the average of all.

5th. That the Ætna's ratio of increase in premium receipts to its cost, is greater than that of any other Company, and four times the average. (See table "C," in Insurance Report.)

6th. That the Ætna's ratio of losses is sixteen per cent less than the average.

7th. That the Ætna's ratio per cent. of increase in Assets is greater than that of any other Company, and more than four times the average.

It will be observed from these comparisons that many Companies do not make so good a showing as the Ætna, although they are unquestionably reliable.

The "ÆTNA" is an old and well-tried institution, and the above extract from the highest official authority upon the subject of Life Insurance commends the Company at once to the thoughtful and serious enquirer, who wishes to make a CERTAIN provision for those depending upon him.

The Ætna loans her customers one-half the premium as long as life lasts, at six per cent., if desired, and gives no restrictions in location or travel in the United States, at any season of the year, and pays her members the

LARGEST DIVIDEND

of any Company doing business in this State, and is PERMANENTLY LOCATED HERE; has paid more Revenue into the STATE TREASURY than any other Company, and paid more money to Widows and Orphans than any other, and therefore, with all of these facts, will deserves the largest patronage, and IS RECEIVING IT.

The ÆTNA, being a STOCK COMPANY, gives all the benefit of dividends to her insured, and none of the liabilities usual in "Mutual insurance."

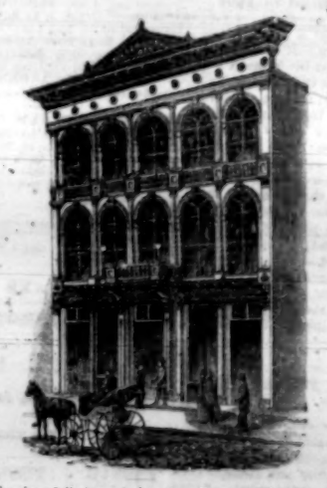
Six per cent interest is allowed upon the Capital Stock of $150,000, and the balance of the profit goes to the insured, which profit or dividend is larger than any other Company doing business in the State.

The ÆTNA has over

$1,000,000

ABOVE LIABILITIES.

THE ÆTNA IS A STRANGER TO LITIGATION. A VERY IMPORTANT FACT. HAS NEVER REFUSED TO RENEW A POLICY LAPSED DURING THE WAR. AND PAID OVER $3,000,000 IN LOSSES.



Any other facts will be cheerfully imparted in the office, over the Store of Messrs. W. H. & R. S. TUCKER & Co.

APPROACHING STATE CONVENTION.

The State Convention, to frame a Constitution for the old State of North Carolina, has been called by Gen. Canby to meet on the 14th. of the present month. We design to report the proceedings of that body as fully and as fairly as possible. The public will be interested in its proceedings, and it will add considerably to our expenses to report them. The presumption is that it will be in session a full month. The Daily Sentinel will be sent to any person who may desire it only during the session, for $1, cash in advance.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—The fifth session of Miss Frances A. Haywood's School, of this city, will commence on the 20th. inst.

Thos. J. Overby, Young's ⋈ Roads, Granville, a graduate of Randolph Macon, with experience in teaching, desires a situation as Teacher.

The next session of Mr. Jno. T. Womble's School, in this city, will commence on the 13th. inst.

A large importation of Liverpool Salt just received: Willard Bros., Wilmington.

Mountain and Goshen Butter, Family Flour, Corn, Seed Oats, Irish Potatoes: W. H. Jones & Co.

Handsome residence for rent, near that of Rev. Dr. Mason: Apply to W. H. Jones & Co.

THESPIANS.—The proposed entertainment by the Thespians did not come off last evening,—the weather again not permitting. It will, however, take place on Friday evening, regardless of the state of the weather. Unusual care and labor have been bestowed upon this representation, and it will prove, in all respects, the most brilliant and attractive of any heretofore given by the Association. No stronger inducement could be presented for a full house.

FORGERY AND FRAUD.—A few days since, a negro presented a check, at the counter of Messrs. J. G. Williams & Co., for $115, purporting to be signed by a lady of this City, which the Cashier, upon inspection, suspected was not genuine. The police were at once sent for and the negro arrested, and the check being sent to the lady in question, she at once pronounced it a forgery.

It turns out that the negro, who presented the check, is but a cats-paw in the hands of a more shrewd and intelligent villain.—The real drawer of the forged paper is said to be one Pierson, formerly a colored U. S. soldier, and late the Editor of the Colored Radical paper in this City. We learn that he has left the city in haste, and eluded the vigilance of the municipal authorities, who were on his track.

Several similar forgeries have been committed, within a few weeks past, of the name of another lady in this city, on one of which money, to the amount of $40, was actually obtained. In the other cases, accidental circumstances alone prevented the rascals from realizing. There is every reason to suspect that the same guilty parties have been concerned in all the transactions. We hope that they may be fully ferretted out and punished.

It is due to the Stockholders of the Radical paper, alluded to, to say, that they had previously discharged Pierson, on account of the evidences of his dishonesty.

Pierson is a bright mulatto, intelligent and plausible, and writes a good hand.—Before the war, he was in printing-offices in Charlotte and Fayetteville, and had learned to set type. We have no means of conjecturing the direction he has taken.

TONSORIAL.—If you want a good shave, call on Prempert, at the Yarborough House. He has fitted up the neatest establishment in his line we have ever had in the City, and understands his business thoroughly, in all its departments.

"ITINERANT," our former excellent correspondent, in a letter to the Register, of this City, speaking of the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, pays the following handsome and merited compliment to Major Vass, the Secretary and Treasurer of the Company:

"Before I leave the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, I desire to make a record that ought not to be suffered to pass into oblivion. In front of the iron safe of the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad Company's office, at Raleigh, sits a man whose career has been remarkable. W. W. Vass went into the service of the Company twenty years ago, and through all changes and all administrations, he has come out Treasurer, with the exception of a period when he was President.

It takes a strong man to hold on to anything for such a term. But Major Vass is an exception to the generality of men.—He is made of material that is calculated for durability and confidence."

"SOUTHERN SOCIETY."—We are in constant receipt of this admirable Weekly Literary Periodical, published in Baltimore.—It is beautiful in typography, and the spirit and variety of its contributions are unsurpassed. We cordially commend it to all who desire a choice Southern Literary Journal. Address 236 W. Baltimore St., Balt. Terms: one year $4; clubs of ten or more, $3,50 per annum.

MARYLAND.—The Baltimore papers of Saturday contain the annual message of Governor Swann to the Legislature. Upon the subject of negro suffrage, the Sun, in its abstract, says the Governor expresses, with ability and power, the sound, conservative views of the people of the State. He considers it the verdict of the people in late elections that the negro is to be excluded from participating in the Government. Mr. Lincoln, he says, recognized this principle in his efforts, in the early stage of the war, to provide a home for black emigrants, where they could live under their own institutions. Maryland, with one-third of her population of this class, has watched with intense anxiety, lest she might be reduced to the same condition as her sister States in the South. This punishment, which was threatened her, was due mainly to her uniform reprobation of the cardinal Radical idea in regard to suffrage. The wicked designs against her have been arrested by the indignant rebuke which the American people have uttered in recent elections.

THE FRIGHT AMONG THE RADICALS AT WASHINGTON.—The radicals at Washington are obviously alarmed. Messrs. Pomeroy, of New York, Washburn, of Indiana, and Cullom, of Illinois, left the national capital on the 2d of January and hurried to Richmond. Their object was to address the Virginia reconstruction convention and enlighten that body on the political topics of the day, especially on the subject of negro reconstruction. Ben Butler himself proposes to start for Richmond on a crusade in the same direction. His main object is, it is said, to edify the colored race in their new and important position in Southern politics, rather than to attempt the hopeless task of controlling the movements of the Southern whites. Ben Butler has not decided to extend his tour to the other Southern States, although he has not abandoned his designs upon the leadership of the black voters of the South. We cannot refrain from expressing our conviction that all these efforts of the radical party to secure their success must prove unavailing, and will only serve to render their ultimate defeat the more decisive and noteworthy.—N. Y. Herald.

Wednesday Morning Dispatches.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7, P. M.

Senate.—Mr. Wilson introduced a bill, vacating certain offices in Georgia, and authorizing the Convention to fill them. Ordered to be printed.

An unsatisfactory discussion, as to whether the bill passed before the recess, abolishing the color distinction in the District, was a law, arose. The matter was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The cotton tax question was resumed, and, after a long argument and numerous amendments, the bill passed to the following effect:

Tax is suspended during the year 1868, on cotton grown during that year. This suspension is not to be construed to prevent the regular levy of tax after 1868. The duty on new cotton imported into the U. S. from April 14th, 1868, to April 14th, 1869, is suspended.

The bill goes to the House for concurrence.

House.—The bill expediting the payment of bounties was resumed. An amendment, referring the claims of negro soldiers to the Freedmen's Bureau for examination, was adopted, and the bill passed.

The election Committee reported in favor of swearing in Trimble, from Kentucky.

A bill preventing whiskey tax frauds was introduced. It forbids the withdrawal from bond, under any circumstances, until the full tax is paid.

The House went into Committee of the whole, when Cary spoke in favor of paying the debt in legal tenders.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7, P. M.

Grant and Sherman had a prolonged interview at the War Office, to-day.

Wilson's bill, presented to-day, vacates the offices of Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Comptroller, and Surveyor General of Georgia.

Secretary Seward was before the Senate Committee on Foreign relations, regarding Territorial acquisitions.

Schenck stated in Congress that there are 400,000 barrels of whiskey in bond, on which tax is due amounting to $40,000,000.

Revenue to-day $630,000.

HOWARD'S REPORT,—STANTON.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7, M.

Howard's Stanton Report takes the ground that Stanton favored the reconstruction acts, while the President evinced a disposition to disregard them, and, if possible, seize the reins of absolute power. This startling purpose, on the part of Johnson, was the real ground of difference between him and Stanton. Stanton had the legal right to refuse resignation, and circumstances justified his action.

The report combats all the President's positions, attempting to place him in the light of a false accuser, and closes with a resolution that the Senate do not concur in Stanton's suspension.

The report impeaches the President's veracity regarding the New Orleans riot.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 7, M.

If nine Republicans persist in their present refusal to go into a Republican caucus, the Democrats will have the organization of the lower House.

There is intense excitement here.

A RADICAL LIGHT EXTINGUISHED.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 7, P. M.

Foster Blodgett, Postmaster here, has been suspended. George Summers, Special Agent, takes charge of the office. A petition is being circulated for signatures among the citizens, which will be presented to Gen Meade, asking for the removal of Blodgett, as Military Mayor of Augusta.

LOUISIANA CONVENTION.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 7, P. M.

In the Convention, yesterday, Blackburn offered a series of resolutions, providing that the warrants of the Convention, with eight per cent interest from the date of the assembling of the Convention until paid into the State Treasury, shall be receivable for all dues to the State, and prohibiting tax receivers from receiving any warrants other than those issued by the Convention.

Cooley opposed it on the ground of illegality, and offered a substitute, providing that tax receivers pay into the Treasury the identical funds collected.

Both were referred to a Committee, which reported, to-day, in favor of Cooley's substitute, which was adopted after a stormy debate.

Life Insurance continues to occupy the most serious consideration of the heads of families, who, by the casualities of war, short crops and short price of Cotton, have been deprived of the support they relied upon, in case of death, for their dependents; and the question with them is, "Which is the CLEAREST, SAFEST, LARGEST, MOST ECONOMICAL and RELIABLE COMPANY represented in North Carolina?" I unhesitatingly assure them that I have indisputable evidence that the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE Co. is, without doubt, prepared to prove, from the most trustworthy and authentic official reports, that she has a larger amount of assets than all other Companies in this State combined; that for eighteen years she has declared an average of fifty per cent dividend; for thirteen years her interest on investment has exceeded her losses; and her vast business is conducted at a much less expense.

All she makes is shared by the assured. No Stockholder receives the lion's share of the profits, and no Company pays its losses more promptly.

Last year (1867) she paid to widows and orphans upwards of a Million of Dollars Therefore, apply at once to P. F. DESCUD, Agt.

As a NEWS journal, it shall be equal to any.—The principal markets will be regularly published.

"IN MEMORIAM."

BY FATHER RYAN.

[From the Savannah News & Herald.]

We are indebted to Rev. A. J. Ryan, the gifted Southern poet, for a manuscript copy of the lines on the death of his brother, a Confederate soldier, who died on one of the battle fields of Kentucky. It was one of the pieces read at the entertainment for the benefit of the Catholic orphans, and Father Ryan's introduction to the reading of it was thrillingly pathetic and eloquent, and was received by the audience attentively, and with the most impressive silence. The speaker stated that he had a brother, at the breaking out of the war, who applied to him for advice regarding the army. He referred him to their mother, to whom the young patriot wrote an appeal. Like many a Southern mother, she told him to go and defend the cause of his people. He died under the Confederate flag, but the speaker would rather have him there under the sod of Kentucky, in a soldier's grave, than living in a down-trodden land. The lines cannot be read without emotion by any capable of appreciating the sensation so poetically expressed.

IN MEMORIAM—D. J. R.

Thou art sleeping, brother, sleeping
In the lonely battle grave;
Shadows o'er the path are creeping—
Death, the Reaper, still is reaping—
Years are swept and years are sweeping
Many a memory from my keeping,
But I'm waiting still and weeping
For my Beautiful and Brave.

When the battle songs were chanted,
And war's stirring tocsin pealed;
By whose songs their heart was haunted
And thy spirit, proved, undaunted,
Clamoured wildly—wildly panted—
"Mother! let my wish be granted!
I will never be mocked and taunted
That I feared to meet our vaunted
Foemen on the bloody field."

"They are thronging, Mother, thronging
To a thousand fields of fame;
Let me go—'tis wrong and wronging
God and thee to crush this longing;
On the master roll of glory,
In my country's future story,
On the field of battle gory,
I must consecrate my name."

"Mother, gird my sword around me;
Kiss thy soldier boy "good bye."
In her arms she wildly wound thee,
To thy birthland's cause she bound thee,
With fond prayers and blessings crowned thee,
And she sobbed—"when foes surround thee,
If you fall, I know they found thee,
Where the bravest love to die."

At the altar of their nation,
Stood that mother and her son;
He—the victim of oblation,
Panting for his immolation;
She—in priestess' holy station
Waving—scobs of consecration
While God smiled his approbation,
Blessed the boy's self-abnegation,
Cheered the mother's desolation,
When the sacrifice was done.

Forth like many noble other,
Went he, whispering soft and low,
"Good-bye—pray for me, my mother;
Sister, kisses—farewell, brother,"
And he strove his grief to smother;
Forth, with spirit proud and peerless—
Forth, with footsteps firm and fearless—
And his parting gaze was tearless,
Though his heart was lone and cheerless,
Thus from all he loved to go.

Lo! you flag of freedom flashing
In the sunny Southern sky!
On—to death and glory dashing—
On—where swords are clanging—clashing—
On—where balls are crushing—crushing—
On—'mid perils dread, appalling—
On—they're falling—falling—falling—
On—they're growing fewer—fewer—
On—their hearts beat all the truer—
On—on—on—no fear—no falter—
On—though 'round the battle-altar
There were wounded victims groaning—
There were dying victims moaning—
On—right on—death—danger braving—
Waving where their flag was waving,
And baptismal blood was laving,
With a tide of crimson water,
All that field of death and slaughter;
On—still on—that bloody later
Made them brave and made them braver,
On—on with never a halt or waver—
On—they're battling—bleeding—bounding,
While the glorious shout is sounding
"We will win the day or die."

And they won it—routed—riven,
Reeled the foemen's proud array;
They had struggled long and striven,
Blood in torrents they had given,
But their ranks, dispersed and driven,
Fled disgracefully away.

Many a heart was lonely lying
There that would not throb again;
Some were dead, and some were dying;
Some were silent, some were sighing,
Thus to die—lone—unattended—
Unswept and unbefriended—
On that bloody battle plain.

When the twilight, sadly, slow
Wrapped its mantle o'er them all!
O'er those thousands lying lowly—
Hushed in silence deep and holy—
There was one—his blood was flowing,
And his last of life was going—
And his pulse faint—faint beating
Told his hours were few and fleeting;
And his brow grew white and whiter,
And his eyes shone bright and brighter—
There he lay—like infant dreaming,
With his sword beside him gleaming;
For the hand in life that grasped it,
True to death—still fondly clasped it.
There his comrades found him lying,
'Mid the heaps of dead and dying;
And the sternest there bent weeping,
O'er that lonely sleeper sleeping.
'Twas the midnight—stars shone round him—
In a shroud of glory bound him;
And they told us how they found him
Where the bravest love to fall.

Where the woods like banners bending,
Drooped in glory and in gloom;
There, when that sad night was ending,
And the faint far dawn was blending
With the stars now fast descending—
There—they mute and mournful bore him—
With the stars and shadows o'er him—
There—they laid him down so tender,
And the next day's sun and splendor
Flashed upon my brother's tomb.

Incidents and Sketches of Life in the Confederacy.

Comprising Narratives of Personal Adventure, Army Life, Naval Adventure, Home Life, Partisan Daring, Life in the Camp, Field and Hospital, Together with the Songs, Ballads, Anecdotes, and Humorous Incidents of the War for Southern Independence.

There is a certain portion of the war that will never go into the regular histories, nor be embellished in romance or poetry, which is a real part of it, and will, if preserved, convey to succeeding generations a better idea of the spirit of the conflict than many dry reports or careful narratives of events, and this part may be called the gossip, the fun, the pathos of the war. This illustrates the character of the leaders, the humor of the soldiers, the devotion of women, the bravery of men, the pluck of our heroes, the romance and hardships of the service.

The Valiant and Brave Hearted, the Picturesque and Dramatic, the Witty and Marvelous, the Tender and Pathetic, and the whole Panorama of the War are here thrillingly portrayed in a masterly manner, at once historical and romantic, rendering it the most ample, unique, brilliant and readable book that the war has called forth.

Amusement as well as instruction may be found in every page, as graphic detail, brilliant wit, and authentic history, are skillfully interwoven in this work of literary art.

LIFE INSURANCE.

From the Insurance Monitor and Wall Street Review, New York.]

A Well-deserved Success—The Equitable Life Insurance Company.

The appalling demolition of seven buildings, consisting of that almost immemorial landmark, "Old Guerrin's," the less ancient "Standinger's," and the present office-building of the American Express Company, on the Southeast corner of Broadway and Cedar street, together with three adjoining buildings on the latter street, is attributable to that modern insurance giant, the Equitable Life. These seven buildings are all to be replaced by one, six stories in height, including basement, and having a frontage of 97 feet 9 inches on Broadway, and one hundred and thirty-seven feet four inches on Cedar street. A number of the first architects in the country are engaged in perfecting plans for the structure, so as to make it in style, accommodation, and convenience, superior to any other building of the kind yet erected.

The building will, however, not only be made to accommodate the Company, but so arranged that the rental of such part as is not occupied by them will return an interest on the investment.—The magnitude and surpassing growth of the Equitable Life not only justify this solid investment, but render it both expedient and necessary. Although this Company has been only eight years in business, its policies issued during its eighth year covered an insurance amounting to over thirty-five millions of dollars. The total sum assured by it up to the present date approaches 100 000,000; its accumulations have run up to 5,000,000; its annual income to three millions, and will in the ensuing year doubtless expand to five millions dollars.

For this rapid increase and substantial success there are abundant and most satisfactory reasons. They are found in the numerous solid advantages the Company affords. In the fact that it is purely mutual, and that all its profits go to the insured on the first of February, every year, at which time a large dividend has been regularly paid, amounting last year to six hundred thousand dollars. Its mode of applying dividends so as to accommodate them to the circumstances of the policy holders, is unequalled for the variety of the advantages it offers.

The Equitable has been enabled to deal thus liberally with its insured in consequence of the prosperity of its business and the thriftiness of its management. The percentage of its "total out go," compared with its cash premium receipts, was less in 1866 than that of any older Company. Its policies average larger in amount than those of any rival institution. It insures on a single life any sum from $250 to $25,000, and issues all the most desirable non-forfeiting policies. All its policies are, however, comparatively new, and it is therefore carrying but few impaired lives. Its percentage of losses, to amount at risk, which is much less than that of older Companies, establish this fact. The Equitable is, indeed, full of vitality and progressive strength, and is regarded as the most successful and—taking into consideration its age—the largest Life Insurance Company in the world.

NEW MOVEMENT IN LIFE INSURANCE.

We learn that some of the cash companies of this City have decided to adopt a uniform scale of premiums to take effect after the close of the present year, with a view to greater simplicity and uniformity in their business. These rates have been carefully deduced from American experience, and will be more accurate and satisfactory than those hitherto used which were based upon English statistics. The Mutual, Equitable, Washington, Widows and Orphans, Standard, and one or two other companies, have entered into this desirable arrangement. We learn also that these companies have decided to establish a system by which their rejections and other points relating to medical examination and statistics, will be made known to each other and mutual benefit derived. The contribution plan of dividend has been adopted by the companies named.

There are many other points in life insurance both theoretical and practical upon which companies conducted upon the general principles can unite for mutual aid and advantage, and yet preserve their individual characteristics and independence in all other respects. Such we learn, is the leading idea governing the proposed union which cannot fail to be attended wit. favorable results.

Important Order from Gen. Canby.

HEADQ'RS 2D MILITARY DISTRICT, CHARLESTON, S. C., Dec. 31, 1867.

General Orders No. 164.

I. Paragraph II of General Orders No. 10, from the Headquarters of the Second Military District, dated April 11, 1867, is modified as follows:

SUITS FOR DEBTS.

Judgments or decrees for the payment of money on causes of action arising in North Carolina between the 20th of May, 1861, and the 20th day of April, 1865, and in South Carolina between the 19th day of December, 1860, and the 29th day of April, 1865, shall not be enforced, by execution, against the person or property of the defendant. Proceedings for such causes of action now pending, shall be stayed, and no suit or process shall be instituted or commenced on such causes of action until after the civil government of the respective States shall be established in accordance with the laws of the United States.

Paragraph III of the same order is modified as follows:

EXECUTIONS.

Sheriffs, coroners and constables are hereby directed to suspend the sale of all property upon execution, or process under any judgment or decree of a court of the so-called Confederate States, or of the State of North Carolina, rendered between the 20th day of May, 1861, and the organization of the provisional government of said State, under the President's proclamation of the 29th day of April, 1865, or of the State of South Carolina, rendered between the 19th day of December, 1860, and the organization of the provisional government of the said State, under the President's proclamation of the 30th day of June, 1865, unless the written consent of the defendant be entered of record, and except in cases where the plaintiff or his attorney, upon oath, supported by corroborative testimony, shall allege that the defendant is disposing of, removing, or about to remove his property beyond the jurisdiction of the court, with intent to defraud his creditors; provided, that no such judgment, so rendered, within the periods aforesaid, shall be a bar to the commencement, in a State court, of a new suit upon the same cause of action in any case in which, by law, the defendant may remove or appeal the same to a court of the United States.

FORECLOSURE OF MORTGAGE.

The sale of real or personal property, by foreclosure of mortgage, is likewise suspended in the cases embraced in paragraphs II and III, of said order No. 10 as above amended, except in cases where interest money accruing subsequent to the 29th. of April, 1865, shall not have been paid before the day of sale, and all previous restrictions on such sales are revoked.

Paragraph IV of the same order is modified by substituting the 29th. day of April, 1865, for the 18th. day of May, 1865.

Paragraph V of the same order is modified as follows:

SUITS ON NEGRO DEBTS.

All proceedings for the recovery of money on contracts, whether under seal or by parol, the consideration of which was the purchase of slaves, made subsequent to the 1st. day of January, 1863, are suspended. Judgments or decrees entered for such causes of action shall not be enforced.

Paragraph VII of the same order is modified as follows:

HOMESTEADS.

In all sales of property under execution or by order of any Court, there shall be reserved out of the property of any defendant who has a family dependent upon his or her labor, a dwelling house and appurtenances, and (if in the country) twenty acres of land, or so much thereof that the whole shall not exceed in value the sum of two thousand dollars, and in a town or city, the immediate lot upon which such dwelling house is situated; and necessary articles of furniture apparel, subsistence and implements of husbandry, trade, or other employment, to the value of five hundred dollars. The homestead exemption shall inure only to the benefit of families. In other cases the exemption shall extend only to clothing and implements of trade or employment usually followed by the defendant, of the value of two hundred dollars. The exemptions hereby made shall not be waived or defeated by the act of any defendant who has a family dependent upon him or her for support, and the exempted property shall be ascertained and defined by the Sheriff or other officer executing the execution, who shall call to his aid two impartial citizens to make the necessary appraisement, and shall make report thereof to the Court.

ARREST FOR FRAUDULENT DEBTS.

Paragraph X is hereby modified so as to authorize arrest in civil actions ex contractu only in cases where the demand is past due, and the defendant has been guilty of a fraud in contracting the debt sued for, or has removed or disposed of his property, or is about to do so, with intent to defraud his creditors, or is about to leave the State with such intent.

EXECUTORS AND TRUSTEES.

Paragraph XVI, is amended by adding thereto: All proceedings in any court of North Carolina, or South Carolina, recognizing or sanctioning the investment of the funds of minor heirs, or of females, or of insane persons, in the securities of the late rebel government, or the securities of the States of North Carolina or South Carolina, created for the purpose of carrying on war against the Government of the United States, will be suspended until the question of the validity of such investments shall have been determined by the courts of the United States, or by national legislation. And nothing in the provisions of this order, or of the order No. 10 above cited, shall be held to bar or hinder the recovery, by suit, of the estate of any minor heir, female or insane person, (cestui que trust), whether in the hands of executors, administrators, trustees, guardians, masters or clerks of equity courts, and other fiduciary agents, or invested by them in their fiduciary character.

DISTILLERIES.

II. General Order 25, of May 20, 1867, is revoked; and on and after the first day of January, 1868, the distillation of spirituous liquors in this Military District will be subject to such restrictions only as are imposed by the laws of the United States and of the States of North and South Carolina, respectively.

BAR ROOMS.

III. Paragraphs VI and VII of General Orders No. 32, dated May 30, 1867, are revoked, and the power to grant licenses for the sale of spirituous or intoxicating liquors is remitted to the proper local authories, to take effect on and after the 1st. day of January, 1868, and to be subject to the following conditions:

1. The municipal authorities granting the license shall be answerable that the parties to whom such licenses are granted, together with their sureties, shall be responsible persons and of good moral standing in the community, and that both principal and sureties shall be able to qualify individually in double the amount of the bond required, and that the bond shall be a lien upon the personal property of both principal and sureties, and upon proof of default shall warrant the summary seizure and sale of so much of the property of either or both as may be necessary to satisfy the forfeiture or fine and costs.

2. Drunkenness or disorderly conduct on the premises shall work the forfeiture of the license and of the penalty of the bond.

3. The owner or keeper of any bar-room, saloon or other place at which intoxicating liquors are sold, and all other persons interested or connected therewith, shall be regarded as principals in any action of damages growing out of any assault, riot, affray or other disorder occurring on the premises, or directly traceable thereto.

4. All bar-rooms, saloons or other places at which intoxicating liquors are sold, shall be closed on the day or days of any general or local election, and for the twelve hours next preceding the opening and next succeeding the closing of the polls at such election; and the sheriffs of counties and districts and the chief of police of cities and towns shall have power to direct the closing of bar-rooms and other places for the sale of intoxicating liquors, whenever it may be necessary in their judgment to preserve order and quiet.

5. The proceeds of all licenses, forfeitures and fines, under the local regulations or under the provisions of military orders, will be devoted to the support of the poor, and as soon as realized will be turned over to the Commissioners or Overseers of the poor of the District County, City or Town in which they are accrued, and the Commissioners or Overseers will at the end of each month report to the Provost Marshal-General of the District the amount received by them during the month, specifying the name of the parties from whom it was received.

6. The penalties imposed by this order or by the local police regulations, may be enforced in any civil or military Court, and upon conviction the Court may award to the informer a sum not exceeding fifty per cent. of the forfeiture or fine. And it is made the duty of all Sheriffs, Constables, and Coroners of Counties and Districts, and the police of cities and towns, to be vigilant in the enforcement of the police regulations and the provisions of this order in relation to the sale of intoxicating liquors.

The provisions of this paragraph will be held to apply to such licenses granted under General Orders No. 32 to inn-keepers, as remain unexpired after the first of January, 1868.

DISTRICT COURTS.

IV. To promote the speedy trial of prisoners confined for minor offences, and diminish the cost of their maintenance, all committing magistrates will, on the 15th. and last days of each month, report to the judge of their county or District Court all commitments made by them during the preceding half month, specifying the date of commitments, the names of the prisoners, and the offences for which they were committed, to the end that the judges may, whenever in their opinion the number of prisoners or other considerations of public interest call for it, hold [illegible] of their courts, for the purpose of [illegible] of such cases. The additional expense [illegible] such special terms will be a charge [illegible] State Treasury, and the accounts therefor will be audited and paid as accounts of a similar character are now audited and paid, and if the salaries now paid the judges should be insufficiquate in view of the additional labor performed by them, a reasonable addition, upon proper representations through the Governor of the State, will be allowed.

PILOTAGE.

V. The pilotage regulations now existing in the States of North and South Carolina are so far modified that, on and after the first day of March, 1868, all passenger steam vessels, regulated by the laws of the United States, and carrying a pilot commissioned by United States Commissioners, shall be exempt from the compulsory payment of pilotage.

NORTH CAROLINA POLL TAX.

VI. So much of the act of the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, entitled "An act to raise monies," ratified on the 26th. day of February, 1867, as makes it "the duty of all persons and corporations to list and pay the [poll] tax of such persons liable to the same, as are in their employment, on the 1st. day of April of each year, as laborers," is rescinded, and hereafter all individual taxes will be assessed directly upon and collected directly from the individuals from whom they are due: provided, that the provisions of this order shall not apply to the taxes levied for the current year except that double poll tax shall not be enforced if the original tax be paid on or before the 1st. day of March, 1868.
